

To: the Medical Students and Doctors of Afghanistan
From: Conrad Fischer, MD

I send you all my greetings and deepest best wishes!

I have been working with the www.DoctorsforAfghanistan.com site since it was started. We live in a new world now where we cannot be separated by distance, geography or politics. In medicine we have a universal goodwill and love across the world where we stand united to help each other take care of sick persons in their time of need.

I strongly encourage you to visit the www.DoctorsforAfghanistan.com site every day to continue your education. After all the years of struggle that the noble and ancient civilization of Afghanistan has been through, the best solution you have for making a better world is your education. Your education can never be taken away from you. It is part of your heart, and mind and soul and it does good both to you and to the suffering world who needs your help.

We all respect, appreciate and admire the world of the doctors and medical students around the world who are maintaining the site. As I am the world's largest preparer of medical students for USMLE I can also say that it can help prepare you for this test should this test.

You MUST make the effort to train and to study. Do not give up and do not fall into despair.

Warmly,

Conrad Fischer, MD
